III. SAFETY/DRUGS & ALCOHOL

Issue – Eighty percent of vehicle crashes involve some sort of driver inattention. Though distracted driving has long been an issue, the popularity of cell phones and social media in recent years has greatly increased the risk and is now the number one source of driver inattention. Using a cell phone reduces the amount of brain activity associated with driving by 37 percent and delays a driver's reactions as much as having a blood alcohol concentration at the legal limit of .08 percent. Text messaging while driving is not only illegal, but it creates a crash risk 23 times worse than driving while not distracted.

CA Office of Traffic Safety: Distracted Driving Month

Twenty – Four (24) Fifteen Second Public Service Announcements Aired: 04/03/15 – 04/30/15
(Monday – Sunday 7PM – 12AM)

If you're driving, texting, checking Facebook or returning emails. And we catch you; you will get a ticket if you don't kill yourself first. It's not worth it. A message from the California Highway Patrol and the California Office of Traffic Safety.

CA Office of Traffic Safety: Distracted Driving Month

Twenty – Four (24) Thirty Second Public Service Announcements Aired: 04/03/15 – 04/30/15
(Monday – Sunday 7PM – 12AM)

Of course I talk to the kids about cell phone use while they're driving. I tell them not to call their friends and never, never text anyone. That's smart. Do you think they listen? They're good kids, I think I made it clear they could get hurt or worse if they take their eyes off the road even for a second. They understand we have rules and their dad and I expect them to follow those rules. Oh! This is important. Excuse me while I answer this text. Show your teen how to be a responsible driver by being one yourself. Texting while driving, it's not worth it. A message from the California Highway Patrol and the California Office of Traffic Safety.

Issue – One Million people chat and text while driving every day. People feel pressure to remain constantly in contact, even if it's behind the wheel. Drivers do not realize the dangers that are posed when they take their eyes off of the road and their hands off the wheel and also take their focus away from driving.

AD Council: Texting & Driving Prevention/Driving Sounds

Twenty – Four (24) Thirty Second Public Service Announcements Aired: 04/03/15 – 04/30/15
(Monday – Sunday 7PM – 12AM)

Did you just look down at your phone? You did it again didn't you? You know you're flying down the road in a three ton hunk of steel. And the text takes your eyes off the road for an average of five seconds. At 55MPH that's long enough to travel the length of a football field and cause some serious damage. Turn it off, trust me. Whatever it is, you'll live. Learn more at stoptextstopwrecks.org. Brought to you by the AD Council and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

Go Caleb. Come on hit a homer Jesse! Let's go guys! Hey! Did you guys know that kids who play sports earn more money when they grow up? Of course I knew that. Hey! Did you guys know kids that read books have a bigger vocabulary? Oh yeah, absolutely. Wow, jinx. Did you guys know that friendly children have more friends? Uh huh. Oh yeah, yeah. That's true, I knew that. Did you guys know that winter babies are better at music? Everyone knows that. Oh yeah? That's pretty obvious. Oh, hey guys did you know that most people think they're using the right car seat for their kid, but they're not? Huh? I didn't know that. I'm pretty sure I knew that. I'm pretty sure you didn't. Let's go inside the mind of a 10 year old. I should have worn earrings today. Buckle up Sarah. McKayla's got like the best earrings. Sarah, buckle up. I wish my name was McKayla. We're not hitting the road until you buckle up honey. Oh yeah, seatbelt. I wonder if there's pizza at school today. It can be tough getting through to kids, but it's your job to make sure they're wearing their seatbelts. Never give up until they buckle up. They'll challenge your authority. They'll try to break your will. They'll push you to the edge of your sanity because that's what kids do. But this car is your territory, not theirs. Defend it. Who makes the payments? Who cleans it? Who drives it? You do, that's who and in here your word is law. So, when you say you won't move until everyone's buckled up. You won't budge an inch. Until you hear that click. Never give up until they buckle up. A message from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and the Ad Council. For more information visit safercar.gov/kidsbuckleup.

Issue – In 2012, deaths in crashes involving drunk drivers with a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of .08+ numbered 10,322—that's one every 51 minutes. Though the drunk-driving prevention campaign has been very successful, research showed that many people thought the message to be targeted at overly drunk drivers and not them. When decision time came, they would consider themselves merely “buzzed” and get behind the wheel.

AD Council: Buzzed Driving Prevention/Online Dating

Twenty – Six (26) Thirty Second Public Service Announcements Aired: 06/02/15 – 06/30/15

Buzzed Driving Prevention/Attention Men

Twenty – Two (22) One Minute Public Service Announcements Aired: 03/04/15 – 03/30/15
(Monday – Sunday 6AM – 12AM)

Attention men under the age of 35. You know what really impresses the ladies? When a guy has a few drinks and later gets pulled over for buzzed driving. That can cost you around $10,000 in fines, legal fees and increased insurance rates. There goes let's grab dinner and movie. Oh I know you drive more carefully when you're buzzed. You've proven that hundreds of times. A woman admires that kind of confidence and you've practiced how to speak if a cop does pull you over. Slowly, clearly and politely like: good evening officer. A woman admires that kind of foresight. And what woman doesn't find it adorable that you call it buzzed even though the law calls it drunk. You can kiss $10,000 goodbye along with any chance of having a girlfriend. Because nothing says I'm a catch more than a guy who lives in his parent's basement and calls it my place. Buzzed, busted and broke. Because buzzed driving is drunk driving. A message from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and the AD Council.

Safe Firearms Storage/Heard On The News

Twenty – Four (24) One Minute Public Service Announcements Aired: 06/02/15 – 06/30/15
(Monday – Sunday 7PM – 12AM)

I heard on the news about that 5 year old who found his uncle's gun. The kid didn't know it was loaded. I heard on the news about that 14 year old girl who was bullied online for like year. She couldn't take it anymore, so she got her dad's gun from the nightstand. I heard on the news about that guy who broke into someone's house, stole a gun from the hall closet. He accidentally shot his cousin in the head. She killed herself. And later killed the owner of the store he was trying to rob. If you own a gun, you have a fulltime responsibility. When you aren't using it be sure it can't get into the hands of curious children, troubled teenagers, a thief, or anyone else who might misuse it. Issue – Bullying statistics are staggering, more than 80% of high school students in the U.S. reporting that they witness bullying at least once a week. Statistics also show that nearly 13 million—more than 1 in 4 children—experience some form of bullying per year. Whether, it is as the bully, bullied and /or both. Bullying is growing concern for parents, but research has shown that if the parent talks to their children about bullying, their children are more likely to take actions against bullying.

Twenty – Seven (27) One Minute Public Service Announcements Aired: 06/02/2015 – 06/30/2015
(Monday – Sunday 7PM – 12AM)

Today in school I learned a lot. In chemistry I learned that no one likes me. In English I learned that I'm disgusting and in Physics I learned that I'm a loser. Today in school I learned that I'm ugly and I'm useless. And in gym I learned that I'm pathetic and a joke. In History I learned that I'm trash. Today in school I learned that I have no friends. In English I learned that I make people sick. And at lunch I learned that I sit on my own because I smell. In chemistry I learned that nobody likes me. In Biology I learned that I'm fat and stupid. And in math I learned that I'm trash. The only thing I didn't learn in school today...The only thing I didn't learn today...The only thing I didn't learn is why no one ever helps. Kids witness bullying every day, they want to help, but they don't know how. Teach them how to stop bullying and be more than a bystander at stopbullying.gov. A message from the AD Council.
